

A person wearing a blue jacket and jeans stands in a dark, narrow alleyway at night. They are looking towards a red vehicle, possibly a truck or SUV, which has its headlights on. The scene is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the vehicle's headlights. On the right side of the alleyway, there is a concrete wall with a sign that reads "CATTLE CROSSING". The sign is white with black text and is mounted on a post. The overall atmosphere is dark and somewhat mysterious.

CATTLE
CROSSING

