Keeping your Council Tax down

The Conservative-led council has, and with your support will continue to keep Council Tax as low as possible without any cut-back to services. West Oxfordshire remains the second-lowest charging shire district council in the country. This is achieved through careful management of resources and not by cutting back on the services residents need.

Working for the Future

Reducing waste

West Oxfordshire already has one of the highest rates of recycling in the country but it still isn't good enough. If re-elected I will continue to press for this to improve. We have made it easier to recycle by introducing the mixed collections and this Council collects and recycles almost all materials including cooked and raw food.

Houses where they are needed

The West Oxfordshire Local plan was adopted in September 2018 which puts it back in control of development. If re-elected I will continue to press for houses to be built where they are most needed, where the infrastructure can cope with development, at a price which key workers can afford to pay and preserving as much as possible the rural nature of the District in which we live. I will work with those who are trying to create employment in the District so that people don't have to commute too far but also to improve links for those who need to travel.

A personal message:

I live in Bampton and have represented the Bampton and Clanfield Ward on West Oxfordshire District Council since 2015. I have worked at Cokethorpe School since I moved to West Oxfordshire in 1985, married to Hilary we have lived in this District, which we know and love, continuously for about 35 years.

Since being elected to WODC I have served on various committees including Environment, Audit & General Purposes, Economic and Social, Licensing panels, Development Control and the Lowlands Planning sub-committee. I was deeply honoured to be elected by my fellow councillors as chairman of the planning committee last May.

I make a point of dealing with concerns personally and quickly and, if re-elected, will continue to work hard for the residents of Bampton, Clanfield and Black Bourton. Please give me that opportunity. Thank you.
