Mrs Brooks of Mill Green showing a cross in the window to indicate a member of the family is away at war. WWI. She was the mother of Brannon Brooks and mother-in-law to Nellie Brooks who was the mother of Nan, Jim, Connie, Teddy, Bob, Nellie and Brit. Her name was Sarah Loveridge, and Richard (Dick) Brooks was her son. (We think!) Her son Teddy was knocked down by a motorcycle on the bridges in Bridge Street when he was 5 and died in hospital.

The father of Annie Amelia "was the grave digger at Black Bourton Church and, when my Great Auntie Doris (born 1912) was a girl, he used to get her to jump up and down on the earth on top of the coffins to help bed it down! She only told us this in later life as my Gran & Great Gran would have been disgusted!!" quote from Jamie Wheeler. Annie's parents were Thomas Akers and Emily Martin.
