

The Jubilee inn is on the left, the War Memorial centre front and the house on the right behind the railings is Greyscott House. Circa 1950

The Jubilee Inn and Mrs Clark's shop

The Jubilee Inn in the Market Square in the 1930s. Garnes Burford Ales and Stouts on sale.

Post card view of High Street from Market Square showing The Jubilee Inn and its cafe and Mrs Clark's shop.

Window boxes at the Jubilee Inn

Behind the railing on the left are the thatched building of Wenman's bakery, pulled down to make way for the War Memorial. Behind Wenman's is The Jubilee Inn with just one window and a chimney stack visible. 4 Town House was then thatched shop and next to it going east is another shop but we have not been able to find what it sold. Bampton Commercial Academy is on the right. Note the gentleman who has put his watering can down to stand still for the photograph.

Reg Pratley on the right, standing outside the Jubilee Inn where he was the landlord

Crowd outside the Jubilee Inn which is selling Garnes ales. Probably c1950s. May have been for the shirt race looking at the table with beer glasses on it outside the pub

The Jubilee Inn now selling Wadworth's beers not Garnes. circa late 1970s or early 1980s.

War Memorial, Jubilee Inn and a shop which is now No.4 Town House.

The Jubilee Inn selling Garnes Burford Ales and Stouts, with a very old car parked outside. Note the 30mph sign; the Market Square was a through road originally, not the car park area it is today 2014. Railing around the war memorial is just visible so it is after 1923
